

MY PLACE IN THE SUN

By PVT. DOUG BARRETT

Well, chums, here I sit two-thirds of a continent away from my friends and neighbors. I'm at Chanut Field, Illinois attending an Army Air Corps technical school. If I told you, you wouldn't believe it. The size of the place!

The brick barracks I call "home" is three stories high, a mile long and half as wide. It can house and feed thousands of men, contains a barber shop, classrooms, general merchandise store, a library, several recreation rooms and all the comforts of home. It's immensity is nothing short of spectacular.

"Buckingham Palace," as it is called to its residents, is, in fact, a small part of the whole of this great base. My particular course draws men here from all parts of the 48 states. So far I have met teachers, attorneys, newspapermen, students and one man who was a sponger in civilian life.

Don't misunderstand me, please, the man was high in the council of one of the nation's leading sponge importing firms. He gave an elaborate description of his business one afternoon and I really learned something. In the barracks I am sandwiched between two San Francisco lawyers, Joe Burgess and Jerry Gilmore. Truly this is a big army and it takes all kinds.

On the way here we passed thru many states and saw many cities. In Fort Morgan, Colo., we got out and double-timed around four blocks to get out the train kinks...at McCook, Neb., George Norris' home, the USO loaded us up with reading material...One young lady wrote her name and address on every few pages of them...which is one way to do it...We got a stop-over in St. Louis and there I had the misfortune to lose my wallet and lodge receipts and some money...which reminds me, I've met several Knights of Pythias in my period in the army.

One of the most prevalent but growing trends of thought is that we will not return to the America we knew, regardless of the outcome of the war and the concluding peace. I pray to God this is a fallacy. We are offering our ambitions, time and very lives on the altar of "our way of life." I for one, am depending on you folks at home to see that our sacrifices are not in vain. If we ourselves, in crushing collectivism adopt its principles and precepts, what is the use of fighting? I am doing my part just as millions of others like me. We seek nothing but those things we knew and loved before the war. We are fighting to keep our way; you won't, you can't let us down.

Fisherman Claims He Caught Snake On Yuba

KNIGHTS LANDING, Sept. 24.—John Carl, Southern Pacific traveling carpenter stationed at Norden, relates a strange and somewhat exciting experience. While fishing for trout over a cliff on the west slope of the Sierra he hooked one of the speckled beauties. As he was pulling it in a large rattlesnake which was lying along the cliff struck at the trout and was caught on the hook too. Carl was forced to cut his line to free the snake and lost his trout.

ASSAULT, BATTERY CHARGED AS LOCAL MAN IS INJURED

Charges of assault and battery have been filed in the justice court here against Walter B. Myers, local recluse, who is accused of striking Antone Filipic, Truckee restaurant owner, in the face and knocking him down on the sidewalk causing serious injuries.

Filipic, who brought the charges, said he was walking along the street when Myers walked out of a door and without warning struck him in the face. Filipic said he did not know his assailant and could think of no reason for the unexpected attack. Myers was taken to Nevada City and is held under observation pending the fixing of his hearing.

Filipic, in falling, struck his head on the pavement and medical treatment was required. Myers protested he did not strike Filipic, although the latter says there were several witnesses.

Engine Of Truck Driven Into Ground Under Huge Tree

Floyd Clark, 45, manager of the resort and store at Hirschdale, and Ellis Coggins, 32, Boca, may not have had much luck hunting a week ago but they are praising their lucky star that they are alive.

Returning home over an old logging road after an unsuccessful hunt near Hirschdale, the two men were suddenly paralyzed when a huge dead tree measuring more than three feet in diameter suddenly broke off and toppled across the hood of their truck, crushing the engine into the ground and missing the cab, in which they were riding only by one second.

They both escaped with only minor injuries. Coggins has a sprained ankle and small cuts on his face while his companion escaped with bruises as a result of the sudden and unexpected stop. The truck was completely wrecked.

Deer Hunters In District Report Excellent Results

Many Limits Bagged Over Truckee-Tahoe Area By Hunters

Deer hunters who have visited this area in the greatest numbers to ever be here for the sport, report excellent results and hundreds of bucks are being validated in the local offices.

While the majority of the deer this season are small, a number of big ones have been killed, with Nat Quilici of Truckee and Ernest Hoerdler of Tahoe City vying for top honors. Hoerdler has killed two, one weighing 200 pounds. Quilici has only bagged one which dressed 190.

Several limits have been taken in the Boca, Floriston and Euer Valley areas, while the districts adjacent to Truckee and Tahoe have produced equally well.

Thus far no serious accidents have been reported despite the fact that hundreds of experienced and inexperienced hunters are swarming over the hills.

Sierra Sun Beams

by WALTER M. BARRETT

This week Bob Bowers leaves for the wars. Like millions of other boys he goes without question, knowing there is a job to be done and knowing that he has a part in the task ahead. Bob is typical of the American youth. Strong, clean of body and mind; willing to take his place in whatever duty is assigned him and we know that he will be a credit to his country. We wish him God's speed. The puzzling part of the picture, to us, is the number of young men, unmarried, without dependents and apparently sound in body, who are not being called. There may be a reason which we do not understand and we sincerely hope that the various selective service boards know more about their jobs than we do.

A few fires have been reported in the Tahoe National Forest since the opening of the hunting season. Of course, most of them will be blamed on hunters and perhaps some of them are even started by the sportsmen. Regardless of the cause, it is up to each and every one of the hunters to see to it that no fires occur if they can prevent them. The forest service cares little whether hunting is permitted in the forests and as a matter of fact the job of that department would be lightened perhaps if hunting was banned and every excuse, if excuses are needed, would be used to ban hunting. For the sake of good sportsmanship and above all for the protection of our forests BE CAREFUL WITH FIRES.

Efforts are being made to provide soldiers stationed in this area with some sort of recreational facilities in Truckee. The men and boys stationed in the vicinity are asking for such a project and there is no doubt something of the kind must be established. A small reading room, where the men may relax, read or write and enjoy some of the things that make life livable, is all they want and it should be our task to see that it is provided. The contingent here is not sufficiently large to justify the establishment of a USO unit, but there must be something we can do locally to solve an urgent problem.

There are many things we can do to make Truckee and the surrounding area a better place to live and increase our business opportunities. Defense work and the war are not helping small, more or less isolated, and particularly unincorporated areas so it is up to the people living therein to work out their own solution. As individuals, we can accomplish little but as a group, there is nothing we can't do, so with your Chamber of Commerce and service clubs and other organizations why can't we all get together on a workable plan, one designed to aid the community and then all work together till it's accomplished.

LaMARRS LEAVE AS WARDEN CALLED FOR ARMY SERVICE

TAHOE CITY, Sept. 24.—Two of Tahoe's favorite citizens, Game Warden and Mrs. William LaMarr took their departure Friday. Bill went to Auburn where he was inducted into Uncle Sam's armed forces, he having applied for admission to officers' training school some months ago. Army life is not unfamiliar to Bill as he spent seven or more years in the artillery and cavalry in the Philippines and in Manila.

Mrs. LaMarr, who had planned to make her home for the duration with her mother in Pasadena, has accepted a position at McClelland Field and has taken an apartment in Sacramento.

Members of the Tahoe Gun Club of which Bill was president, and other friends and neighbors were thwarted in their plans to give the couple a rousing farewell party before they left, due to lack of time. The LaMarrs will be greatly missed due to their willingness to participate in civic and social affairs of Tahoe.

Fires In County Are Controlled After Damage

Local Man Pays Fine For Starting Blaze In Boca Area

Robert Hill of Truckee was arrested by Fire Prevention Officer J. D. Rafferty and fined $25 Monday by Justice of the Peace C. E. Smith of Truckee for starting a fire east of Boca Sunday that burned ten acres of range and young timber in the Tahoe National Forest, according to District Ranger H. I. Snider.

According to Snider, Hill stated he was smoking while hunting and, looking back on the area a short distance from where he left his car, he noticed the fire started. He tried to put it out with brush but was unsuccessful and went to Boca to report it to the forest service which had already sent crews to the fire.

Ranger Snider also reports that Fire Patrolman Harvey Sieckert arrested a foot traveler who gave the name of P. G. Chastain, for building a campfire without a permit near the brush along the highway five miles east of Truckee Sunday night. When taken before Judge Smith Monday he was given a ten-day suspended sentence and ordered to leave the forest as soon as possible. Chastain said he had no money and was just traveling through the country.

This was the third arrest made in the Truckee area recently since Joseph Soares, a hunter from Petaluma was fined $5 by Judge Smith on September 16 for leaving a campfire unextinguished in the Juniper Creek area southeast of Truckee.

Fire which swept the lower end of North San Juan Ridge, west from that little town as far as French Corral, was brought under control by forest service men, 250 soldiers from Camp Beale, 50 or more convicts from Folsom prison, 26 boys from the Nevada City high school and others.

A number of old landmarks in the destroyed area were burned. The fire had its inception in a small burn which started at the Morris reservoir south of San Juan. State forestry crews were quickly on the job and had the fire controlled when a strong north wind whipped it into nearby scrub brush and completely out of hand.

BOB TONINI ENDS LOCAL STAY WITH SUCCESSFUL HUNT

Robert Tonini, who has worked in Truckee for many years for the Sierra Pacific Power Company, left Tuesday for San Luis Obispo where he will visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Tonini for a while before being assigned to duty in the navy.

As a final gesture of his ability as a hunter, Bob the night before he left went a few hundred yards from his home, across the river, bagged a nice buck which he took with him on his trip.

Mrs. Tonini plans to remain here for the winter at least. Bob was told he would be assigned to foreign service in the near future as an electrician.

The Difficult Job of Keeping a Balance

EDITORIAL

TOOTS FOR VICTORY

The next time a speeder passes you on the road try giving him three toots of your horn.

The other day a radio announcer told about his success with the treatment. He was driving along at 30 miles an hour when a car went whizzing by him. Realizing that this driver was wasting gasoline and rubber, the announcer tooted his horn three times as if to say, "Don't be a Nazi."

The car went speeding on past a second conservative driver. That driver took up the cue and blew his horn three times. Both watched as the speeder showed he realized what it was all about by pulling over to the side of the road and taking it easy for the rest of the trip.

Whether it's three toots of the horn or any other signal, it's a good idea for all of us to have a way we can express our resentment against any one "speeding as usual" these days. Since the three-toot signal has been started let's carry it on.

MEAT RATIONING

So meat is to be rationed. Maybe it is necessary and maybe it isn't, but the two and a half pounds per person quota which is to be allotted to all of us isn't anything to stay awake nights over.

For a family of four, that means ten pounds of meat a week. There are probably few families which consume that much meat now—and if they do they can still supplement it with fish or fowl.

There isn't another country in the world where people know what it is like to get that much meat each week. In Germany and Italy the people are lucky if they get a few ounces of meat and even in the countries with which we are fighting that much meat has become something unheard of.

It would be interesting to know how much meat is consumed by the average family in this country. But it is a safe bet that two and a half pounds per person per week would be an extravagance which many families have never enjoyed. It hardly seems as though we need rationing to keep our consumption down to this high quota.

ON THE NEWS FRONT

Meat Rationing Planned for U. S. As Demand Climbs Above Supply

Even though the U. S. will have a record production of 24 billion pounds of meat at the end of 1942. Mr. and Mrs. America are facing "meatless days" and eventual meat rationing.

But there is a very good—and necessary—reason why these things should (and will) take place. First there is the fact that our fighting forces are needing plenty of meat now, and are going to need lots more before the type of peace we want is won.

Then, there is the matter of supplying our fighting Allies, and their civilian population, with plenty of meat to keep them in top fighting and working condition.

Finally, there is the fact that our civilian working people here in the United States, working harder than ever before to turn out the weapons to smash the Axis, need more meat to keep up their energy.

It is these three important centers of demand for meat, and meat products, which will bring about the meatless days, and meat rationing. The total demand for meat in 1942 will amount (including all sources) to 27 billion pounds. There will only be a 24 billion pound supply to fill the minimum demand.

Consequently, to cut down the meat demand to the available supply, this nation's civilian population will have to eat less meat.

For we can't take the meat away from our fighting men. And we also must keep sending our Allies enough to keep up their war effort.

State Awaiting Further Word on Speed Limit

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 24.—(UP)—Gov. Culbert Olson's office said today state authorities will await further word from the President regarding the proposed 35-mile national speed limit suggested by the rubber fact-finding board.

The state now has a voluntary 40-mile an hour limit in effect which can be enforced only by denying tires to motorists recorded as driving over 40 when they appear before the rationing boards.

It was also pointed out that if nation-wide gasoline rationing is instituted, some sort of penalty system might be set up for motorists whose licenses are taken whenever observed by highway patrolmen going more than 40 miles an hour.

North Tahoe News . . .

By Madeline Gallerani

H. Mapers of Lodi brought in 42 trout measuring 10 inches each in the course of three-days fishing along the Truckee river. Mapers left last Wednesday for his home with his wife and son and Mrs. T. Lyle, his mother in law of Sacramento, after spending a week at Bonnie Beach.

WOMEN'S CLUB TO DISCONTINUE MEET FOR COMING SEASON

TAHOE CITY, Sept. 24.—Members of the Tahoe Women's Club met on Thursday in the Tahoe Community hall with Mrs. N. R. Mayfield, president of the group in charge.

Following the salute to the flag minutes of the previous meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. John Burns. Mrs. Dian Warner, club treasurer gave a financial report and a motion was passed to give the Tahoe Red Cross chapter the $25 raised at the club's last dessert bridge, the money to be spent in providing the contents of service men's ditty bags. The check will be presented to Mrs. Evelyn Bliss, chairman, who in turn will send it to the Auburn Chapter as a donation from the local club.

It was also decided by those present that due to the lateness of the season, the difficulties caused by restricted transportation and the departure of a great number of members and their families and war work that business meetings for the season would be discontinued. The club has made an excellent showing this summer despite the reduction of membership and is proud of its accomplishments under the guidance of Mrs. Mayfield, who has given generously of her time and ability in making the season successful.

The subject of the Nutrition course offered through the Placer County High School and Red Cross was dismissed as undesirable at this time by ladies of the Tahoe district.

Members present voted to hold the club's annual turkey dinner this fall the same as in other years, the date being set for Saturday, September 26. Mrs. W. A. Simmonds was made chairman of the affair with Mrs. Harriett Valentine, Mrs. Nora Hevel Mrs. Elizabeth Worden and Mrs. Eleanor Swanson as assistants. It was decided that only members, and their families are eligible to attend.

The level of Tahoe Monday morning stood at 6227.93 with 452 CSF of water, leaving the dam gates at Tahoe City. The coldest morning to date was on September 19 when the temperature dropped to 29 degrees.

THEY SUCCEEDED YOUNG

I have a letter from a young man who wants to know why it is that people who have done wonderful things early in life are always Europeans. "Haven't Americans ever accomplished anything worth while when they're young?" Then he gives a few examples of what he means: Franz Liszt, Hungarian composer, gave a piano recital when he was twelve. It was so well performed that Beethoven went up on the stage and kissed him. Another example: John Keats, the great English poet, died when he was only 26. I can understand the young man thinking as he does. One explanation lies in the fact that distance and time lend glamour; and these startling examples of early accomplishment are passed around by writers and are easy to take off the shelf and reprint.

I became so interested in his letter than I have been going through my notes, off and on, for two or three days, and now I'll give you examples of what Americans who are still living have accomplished early in life.

First, Lindbergh. All he did was to fly the Atlantic when he was 25. In 1903, a garage mechanic in Santa Ana, Calif., rented an abandoned church, tore out the front door and built an airplane of his own. Not only that but flew in it. He was 22. He had an airplane factory of his own when he was 26. He is Glenn L. Martin, the builder of the famous Martin bomber.

Orville Wright was 32 when he and his brother made the first airplane flight in the history of the world.

John Robert Gregg invented the Gregg system of shorthand at the age of 19. Today half a million people study his system yearly.

Eddie Rickenbacker won his first automobile race when he was only 20 years old.

When Lindbergh flew the Atlantic in 1927, a young man from Kansas City was thrilled over the feat. He got an inspiration to draw a picture of a mouse getting into an airplane and trying to fly an ocean. The young man? Walt Disney. The mouse? Mickey. Disney was 23.

In 1909, a young man who had been born on a farm in Ohio, rented a hayloft in Dayton, Ohio, and started tinkering 'round. He came out with the first automobile self-starter. His first order amounted to two million dollars! He was 33 years old. His name was Charles F. Kettering.

If my young correspondent reads this column, I think he will be encouraged.

Brazilian Anti-Aircraft Gun Crew at Alert

The republic of Brazil is now at war with Germany and Italy. Brazil was the first South American nation to go to war against the Axis partners and the only South American country to go to war on the Allied side in World War I. Formal declaration of war was prompted by attacks on 17 Brazilian ships since January, and the more recent sinking of six ships off their coast by Axis submarines. Picture shows a Brazilian anti-aircraft gun crew standing at alert as a result of their nation declaring war.

DEER HUNTERS IN TAHOE AREA ARE GETTING MANY DEER

TAHOE CITY, Sept. 24.— One of the luckiest parties to return from deer hunting Friday night was the quartet composed of Carl Bechdolt, Jr., Fay Ellis, Robert Pomin and Larry Compagno of San Francisco who brought in a total of seven deer or approximately 1000 pounds of venison. Bechdolt got one, Ellis two, Pomin two and Compagno two, the largest being a four pointer. All were fat and averaged around 150 pounds each. Grover Todd, local highway patrolman visited the same section in the Hell Hole region and also returned with a buck.

Jay Schumacher, Harold Ambrosen and Jimmie Swanson tried their luck Sunday in the region of Big Chief. Schumacher bringing in an 85-pound forked horn. Young Swanson Saturday shot a forked horn weighing 140 pounds in the same section. He and Terry Tollefsen of Big Chief, hunting together, had better luck than many of their elders who still have not had a single srot.

Ernie Hoerdler of Tahoe City retained the distinction he held for a number of past seasons in being the first man in with a buck. He shot a 200 pounder having six points on one side and eight on the other.

Carl Bechdolt, Sr., got a four-pointer weighing close to 150 pounds at Barker Pass.

From Pine Lodge comes another record breaking deer story from the members of the Henry Soll family. Mrs. Louis Gerkin (the former Agnes Soll) and her husband, visiting at the Soll home from Sacramento, brought in a total of three deer on Thursday morning, all forked horns, Agnes getting one and Louis two. Then Miss Alice Soll, up from school at Oakland, preceded out to hunt and brought back another buck, bringing the total to four for the family. The only incident to mar the family's delight was the drowning of Gerkin's two months old daschund which fell from the pier into the lake while playing with older dogs.

Bob Wallace and Bud Wilders of Sacramento who hunted in the northern section of the state returned with a 190-pound, three pointer, shot by Wallace.

CHURCHILL VISITED TAHOE AREA MANY YEARS AGO: REPORT

TAHOE PARK, Sept. 24.— An interesting story came to light last week when Matt Green, Tahoe Tavern owner and Chris Nielsen, early day boatman, visited together at the Nielsen home in Tahoe Park.

The two were recalling interesting events of early Tahoe history when the conversation finally settled on the year 1910. It was then that Green brought to memory the visit to Tahoe for the summer season of a man and his family now famous in world's history.

It was Winston Churchill, his wife and son, who occupied the M. L. Effinger house, belonging to a Gold Field, Nevada, mining man.

It was the house next door to the Nielsen property to the north and at present the property is owned by the Charles Kendricks of San Francisco. Nielsen had an excellent opportunity to become acquainted with Mr. Churchill, having taken him and his young son on fishing trips across the lake numerous times. The fishing was always good in those days and the party always returned with the limit of trout.

Churchill, even then, was a man of very serious mein, spending much of his time alone. He kept much to himself, using what is now a summer bedroom in the garret for his study.

Despite the fame which has come to Churchill and his family, his visit to Tahoe was not recollected until last week's reminiscing fest between the two old friends.

Tahoe Neighbors Are Shocked at News Of Death of Gene Pierce

SQUAW CREEK, Sept. 24.— Residents of the Squaw Creek section on the Truckee River will miss the familiar face of Eugene Pierce, 67, who owned and operated the resort and small store on Squaw Creek for many years, coming in each spring and closing with the coming of winter.

His neighbors and friends knew him as a kindly man and good neighbor and many depended on him for phone messages during the summer season his being one of the few in the district. Some years ago the heavy snow caved in the roof of his small resort, but he cleared away the debris and continued to operate as it was giving the building a peculiar appearance.

High Winds Reported To Have Caused Damage

Considerable damage was done to piers and wharves around the lake Thursday night as wind and rough water lashed the shoreline. A rowboat at Sunnyside harbor was swamped during the night and Chris Nielsen, Tahoe Park boatman, spent the great part of the night before midnight rescuing his boat from possible damage. At the William Letts Oliver home, decking of the wharf had to be lashed together to keep it from being carried away by the rough water.

the Rattlesnake Creek region of Hell Hole. They were E. H. Pomin of Tahoe Park, J. E. Pomin of Idlewild, Stanley Pomin of the Pope Estate and Harvey Gross of Myers. The quartet brought back three nice deer all averaging 150 pounds and all forked horns.

Prepare Now for V-I-C-T-O-R-Y AFTER VICTORY

The problem of changing from war work, after World War I, to peacetime production, plunged us into a long and grim depression.

Rural America felt this depression five years ahead of industry and business. We tried to warn labor and capital but they would not believe the warning and insisted the rainbow and the pot of gold at the end would last forever.

Finally, the bubble broke and the storm came. We had 12 million unemployed, the domestic market for farm production was gone, and even the smaller export market survived only when we loaned Europe the money to buy our products. Farm income was reduced, mortgages increased and many farmers lost their farms while industry, big and little, was at its wits' end to survive.

To Prevent a Worse Depression.
Our problem is to prevent even a worse depression at the end of this war. Every industry, big and little, has been retooled to produce airplanes, tanks, cannon and weapons of war. Millions and millions of dollars have been spent for this purpose.

When this war is ended it will take the same millions of dollars to turn these industries back to peacetime production.

Lessons of World War I.
We learned after World War I that our country cannot prosper unless agriculture prospers. We know now that our country cannot prosper unless agriculture, business and industry, and labor are all prosperous. Whatever our personal feeling may be, the fact remains that all of these groups taken together make up our domestic market which consumes over 90 per cent of our total production.

Labor can purchase its maximum of farm products if each worker has a permanent job at good wages. The employer can pay good wages if he has something useful to manufacture and some one has the desire and the money to buy it. Jobs at good wages depend upon an employer who is making the money necessary to pay the wages.

Farm Prices Reflect Good Business.
This makes it plain that with employers and business busy in useful undertakings, with all workers employed at good wages, farm prices will be good and consumption at its maximum.

The key to the situation is that employers shall have the cash money at hand to change from war manufacture to peacetime activity with the least possible delay when this war ends.

Our United States Senate is searching for a plan that will produce maximum revenue to the government to insure victory; provide a fund at the end of the war big enough and quickly enough to convert business and industry from war work to peacetime necessity, but without the government having to borrow and lend the money for this purpose after the war is over.

Here Is a Simple, Practical Plan.
For the solution of all these problems there is one simple plan of outstanding practical value, based on the idea that war profits from all companies, big and little, should be used for this purpose.

The tax rate on war profits is figured at about 90 per cent. Business and industry, big and little, would be permitted, however, to deduct from their taxable war profits 20 per cent of such profits, provided the deduction is used to purchase United States Recovery bonds.

Recovery bonds would be a special kind of bond for this purpose only. Recovery bonds could not be sold or borrowed upon during the war, and neither would they pay any interest. They must be held by the purchaser until the end of the war.

The day the war is over these bonds would automatically start to bear interest, could be bought and sold, and become the same as any other government bond. The purchaser could sell them or borrow upon them to obtain the money to change his business and plant from war production to peacetime production when and as he needed money to do this job.

Profits for Peace-Time Recovery.
In other words, business, big or little, would be required to contribute 20 per cent of its own war profits to provide the money to change its own plants back to peacetime production.

The fairness and equity of such a plan is perfectly plain. Each company, by using 20 per cent of its own war profits to buy Recovery bonds, builds its own backlog to bridge from war production to normal peacetime activities. Big companies and small companies will buy in proportion to their size and needs until the war is over. In the meantime, our government receives the maximum in revenue to produce for victory, and we, the people, have established security against the worst depression of all time.

With such a plan adopted and in operation, we can all give our maximum to the war effort, secure in the fact that when the war is over we can quickly and safely go back to the paths of peace. The necessity for such a plan is so apparent, the evils of depression so grim and widespread that we, the people, can well afford to take time out to support our senators and congressmen in this effort to bypass another depression.

Telephone Lines Are the Busiest In History

You Can Help Us to Help You

We want you to know that we are meeting the war emergency with everything we have, but in these critical times delays are bound to occur.

In speeding Victory, the telephone lines are busier—far busier than ever before. We cannot plan and build new lines and new switchboards, as we normally would, because copper and other strategic materials have gone to war in planes, tanks, and guns.

Unnecessary and needlessly long telephone calls should be out for "the duration." War calls must be given the green light.

Your considerate thoughtfulness in making only the most urgent calls is inspiring to all of us who are earnestly endeavoring to uphold the finest traditions of telephone service. May we also ask you to help us further to help you by being brief on all calls, by calling by number when making long distance calls, and by answering calls promptly.

Politically Speaking

by JOHN W. DUNLAP
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 24.—(UP)—The Republicans showed the Democrats how to streamline a political convention during wartime to achieve the utmost possible harmony and unity.

From the start to finish, the Republicans avoided squabbling and waste of motion in public, in complete contrast to the endless bickering in the democratic ranks.

As one prominent Democratic official declared in disgust: "If we democrats had spent as much effort in electing Governor Olson as we did fighting among ourselves, the party would have been better off." The Republicans had sufficient leadership to program their convention the first day and the state central committee the next. Candidates were worked out in caucus and unanimous votes were cast on the floor. Earl Warren, the Republican nominee, spoke barely 15 minutes and his platform was four typewritten pages. Both days the Republicans adjourned by midafternoon.

In contrast, the democratic platform ran some 18 pages and Gov. Culbert Olson's speech of 43 pages required more than an hour to deliver. The first day's program went past midnight under a stopped clock and the second day's organization was incomplete by dinnertime, and a night session was necessary.

The democrats did their orating in one caucus session after another, trying to break a deadlock on the main offices. It appeared that the

URGES BONDS—NOW!

New Bond Poster.—Now being displayed throughout the country is this impelling poster pointing out the urgency of buying War Bonds now before it is too late. This is part of the general War Bond Campaign in which everyone is asked to invest at least 10 percent of his income in War Bonds. Illustration is by Laurence Beale Smith.

unexpected strength of Republican Warren, and the switch in betting odds favoring Warren had somewhat demoralized the democratic forces.

Another bobshell added to the democratic calendar was the death of Rep. Frank Buck of Vacaville, leaving a vacancy for the democratic nomination. Every available man in the district put on the pressure to swing the state central committee's nomination, with Joe O'Neill, Sacramento service station owner, getting the caucus bid.

The Republicans had a similar job to fill in the second board of equalization district, where Assembly Speaker Gordon Garland could not accept the GOP bid because he had failed to win his own from incumbent Ivan Sperbeck. The choice James H. Quinn of Oakland poses an interesting problem for the November 3 election.

It was unexpected that the Republicans would choose a labor leader who heads Oakland building and construction trades council. Yet Quinn has served on the Oakland city council nine years, is considered a conservative within and without labor's ranks, and broke with other labor groups in supporting Republican Warren from the first.

The strategy behind Quinn's selection is that he will split the heavy Alameda County vote, capture a strong bloc of labor votes, and hope to pick up the anti-Sperbeck vote that went to Garland in the remaining 17 counties. Garland polled more than 50,000 votes over Sperbeck and won the total vote in each county.

Watching the biennial state conventions makes one wonder whether they serve the useful purpose behind their original creation under the constitution. But it is a constitutional process and if nothing else gives the rank and file of party members a chance in the limelight every two years. About 150 members attend the annual conventions, then four times that many are members of the state central committees.

Only the Democrats and Republicans have full memberships or proxies present. The Townsend party attracted 75 delegates to Sacramento and heard a telegram read from the founder, Dr. Francis Townsend, that the party should be disbanded next year and more emphasis put on the Townsend clubs.

The Prohibitionists had a score of members present and the communists by actual count, had 17 delegates the first day and nine the next.

The party platforms were geared to the war effort. The democrats went farthest in recommending that families of service men receive state subsidies, and men in military service get state bonuses upon demobilization and liberal tax exemptions. The democrats also matched previous Republican promises of tax reductions, and overstepped Republican pension promises by advocating a $60 monthly payment for those over 60.

SCARCITY OF TIRES NOTED BY PATROL THROUGHOUT STATE

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 24.—Tire punctures and blowouts on highways of California have almost doubled in the last six months, the department of motor vehicles revealed today.

Surveys conducted throughout the state by highway patrolmen indicate inability of car owners to obtain new tires is having the inevitable effect of increasing the number of vehicles parked on roadsides for repairs or waiting for a tow car.

One patrol inspector reported tire dealers in his district had received several offers "as high as a month's salary" for one good used tire. The same officer said from five to ten cars could be observed any Sunday "limping in" on an empty rim.

Garages report an increasing number of vehicles stored for want of tires. An officer in the San Francisco district reported he had observed double the number of vehicles parked alongside the highway because of tire trouble. A northern California inspector said there has been an increase of 200 per cent in punctures and blowouts within a six month period.

Several officers reported traffic hazards created by drivers who, fearing injury to precious tire casings, refuse to move them even a few feet and consequently leave their vehicles parked on pavements while they go in search of help or another tire. From several communities it was reported that the stock of boots for casings is being depleted.

James M. Carter, director of the department, declared the increase of tire trouble indicates the need for slower driving and more careful conservation of tires by the general public.

"The public should remember no more tires will be available when the present ones are gone," Carter declared.

Carter announced he had instructed highway patrolmen to give all possible assistance to motorists stranded alongside the highways by tire trouble.

CONSUMERS URGED TO RETURN DAIRY GOODS CONTAINERS

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 24.—(UP)—Consumers of milk and dairy products today were urged by State Director of Agriculture W. J. Cecil to return bottles, cans and other dairy products containers promptly.

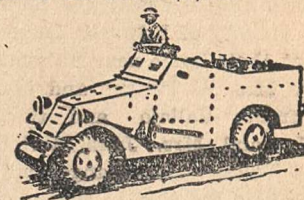

Purchase of new bottles and containers has been curtailed under war restrictions, and many thousands of milk bottles, cans and other containers are out of circulation and apparently being used for private purpose.

Lack of these containers will seriously hamper the distribution of milk and dairy products to both the military and civilian population of California, Cecil said.

The director further pointed out that it is illegal under California law to use returnable bottles or other containers for any purpose other than those for which they were intended.

Eugene Pierce Enjoyed Interesting Life, His History Reveals Here

Eugene Pierce of Squaw Creek, Truckee, passed away at the Auburn Hospital Thursday, September 17 at 3 a. m.

Eugene Pierce was born on July 14 1874 at Johnstown, Fulton County, New York, one of 13 children of which family he was the last. His parents were hard working people and as each child arrived at a certain age they migrated to different parts of the country. Gene's ambition was to become a sailor so he went to New York City and after a few trips on the Mallory Line as steward decided he would see California. He arrived at Wadsworth Nevada when the Southern Pacific was changing the division and liked the country so well he stayed and started in business.

He married and was doing fine until the flu epidemic of 1918 when he lost his wife. He then sold his business and moved to Squaw Creek which he called his home. He would leave each fall and return each spring although this year he did not come until June because of failing health.

His closest friend, Jack Noonan of Truckee handled the funeral arrangements here. "I promised that if he did not improve in the hospital, I would bring him back," Noonan explained. He also made me promise that if he did pass away, I would bring his body back to Truckee so he could rest in peace."

grass fire which was reported ranging out of control Sunday and Monday. Latest reports here declare that a total of 125 men were engaged in fighting the blaze which may have been started by a careless smoker. No other fires were reported in this region over the past week.
